
2024 End-of-Year Report

Dear Friends,

On behalf of the Board of Directors of Miraglo Foundation at Pacific Pearl La Jolla, California, we would like to wish you a Happy Thanksgiving. We are grateful for your support.

Thanks to supporters like you, Miraglo is able to continue our mission to advance Integrative and Holistic Medicine education and research, along with providing healthcare, services, and education to the underserved -- locally, nationally and globally.

2024 has been challenging in many ways. Storms, floods, droughts, fires and earthquakes continue to strike our world, and remind us more and more that our planet is vulnerable.

The climate crisis is not only in developing countries but also right in our backyards. Environmental disasters, on top of man-made disasters such as violent conflict, affect everyone and force us to reflect on what is important for our health and well-being.

In the face of global adversity, Miraglo Foundation has continued helping people and organizations with education, healthcare, and grants that support basic needs such as food, medication, and healthcare.

In 2025 we will continue providing sustainable and essential support to educational and service projects at home and around the globe, this includes many San Diego based non for profits service programs and assistance to refugee families. We continue to support the nursing school at Sri Narayani Hospital in India with 400 students and the children's schools in India and Nepal. On the Integrative Health and Medicine education front, we are continuing our support of the Academy of Integrative Health and Medicine (AIHM) and their education programs. Another program that is close to our hearts is the Consciousness and Healing Initiative (CHI), which is a pioneering research initiative exploring biofield science and its impact on physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual well-being. Miraglo is also extremely excited to be part of the Traditional, Complementary and Integrative Healthcare organization or TCIH, headquartered in their new office in Geneva, Switzerland. The TCIH Coalition leverages its strategic location to directly engage with key influential global health policy leaders , including the WHO and the United Nations. And finally, Dr. Mimi Guarneri continues to provide critical education to the public and clinicians on health and healing.
